THE DENISHWAI AFFAIR AND THE PRESS.

To abstain from comment on matters that are literally sub judice is a prudent and an equitable course, and in our opinion the attitude of a section of the Press during the recent trial was decidedly ill-advised. A court composed as was the special court which tried the Denishwai prisoners, does not require the advice of the Press as to its duties, nor does it need coaching on legal points, and the attitude which assumes from the outset of a trial that justice will not be done cannot be commended for its fairness or wisdom. The court found that the crime was premeditated, that the officers were not responsible for the wounding of a woman and, three fellaheen (which in their opinion was caused by the accidental explosion of Lieut. Porter's gun for which several of the robbers were struggling), that Major Pine Coffin's efforts to calm the excited crowd were responded to by a general attack, and that the officers were wounded, robbed, and treated with cowardly brutality by an excited mob. Under these circumstances it inflicted the death penalty on the most guilty of the accused, and in our opinion rightly.

Some of our contemporaries have enlarged on the thesis of one of the counsel for the defence that clemency is higher than justice. We should have thought that justice, the demand for which gave England her Magna Charta, and France the reforms brought about by the Revolution, was the one indispensable accompaniment of the administration of a modern State, but in these days sympathy appears to follow the criminal rather than his victim. The latter is pitied and buried, but the criminal becomes the object of universal commiseration. Poor fellow! He was so ignorant! he did not realise that when he planned the murder of a man who had done him no harm he was doing wrong! Would not some of these sympathetic critics demand fire and sword for the murder of one of their relations? In our opinion the sympathisers with the criminal lose sight of the fact that punishment is inflicted as a means to an end. A. is hanged not because he has murdered B. but to prevent the murder of others, and on this principle the world has long acted and will long continue to act. Certain States inflict the most rigorous penal servitude for life on the worst criminals, exchanging for a rapid death a slower but almost equally fatal process, and dooming a number of respectable and honest persons to the task of looking after some of the vilest human types. We cannot praise the compromise.

As for the Denishwai judgment, the object of the judges was to prevent a recurrence of similar outrages, and we shall be greatly surprised if Europeans of all nationalities and the millions of respectable Egyptians who dwell in the provinces do not benefit by the verdict and its publication. The condemnation of the unfortunate wretches who meet their fate to-day may prove the salvation of a host of honest and peaceable folk, and when a section of the Press demands clemency it appears to forget that a severe deterrent is often as necessary to the State as the eradication of a cancer to the human body.

Hindoo Fatalism.

An extraordinary incident lately occurred at Tilbury Docks. The Hindoo cook of one of the vessels in the docks was missed, and for several days could not be traced. On the fourth day a constable observed some smoke rising from a disused pig stye near the railway and on making investigations found the Hindoo cook squatting over a small fire which he had made in an oil can. The Hindoo was much emaciated, and on being questioned stated that he had been scolded for bad cooking and had gone into the little hut to die. He had eaten nothing for four days. He was, however, induced to partake of some food and live.

The infirmary has been established by public subscription. The secretary of the Moudirieh and the Cadi gave addresses enjoining kindness to animals. At the conclusion the Moudir thanked those present and those who had contributed towards establishing the infirmary and urged upon the inhabitants of the Moudirieh to put forward efforts to open a hospital for children.

This morning, Mr. W. R. B. Briscoe, M.A., who is relinquishing his legal practice in Egypt, was presented by his colleagues of the British Consular Bar at Alexandria with a handsome silver bowl as a souvenir of his long-standing connection with the legal tribunals of Egypt. The presentation took place in the offices of Messrs. Briscoe and Aicard, Messrs. Wilmo, Caloyanni, and Gooding all expressed their best wishes for Mr. Briscoe's success at the English Bar. Mr. Briscoe, replying with emotion, thanked his colleagues for their good wishes, and expressed the hope of welcoming them all in England. He also prophesied their success under some new judicial system which seemed to be indicated for Egypt in the near future.

DENISHWAI TRIAL.

PASSING OF JUDGMENT.

SENTENCES RECEIVED CALMLY

PREPARATIONS FOR EXECUTION.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

Chibin el Kom, Wednesday.

As telegraphed you this morning, the Special Tribunal assembled for the passing of the sentences upon the prisoners who had been found guilty of participating in greater or lesser degrees in the attack upon five British officers at Denishwai on the 13th inst. About half past eight prisoner No. 16, Said Suleiman Kheiralla, was seized with an epileptic fit and as the Court awaited his recovery and return before the passing of judgment it was nearly nine o'clock before Osman Bey Mortada, Secretary to the Court, began to read aloud the lengthy document. The prisoner was attended to by Dr. Nolan, who was in Court and went to his assistance.

Before the Court assembled the excitement of the audience was very evident, and remarks were passed by all. It was noticed that the number of police guarding the docks was doubled, that two were "told off" to guard the leaders of the mob, who had been placed together in the first row of the left hand dock, and that behind the docks, on either side, was a detachment of the 6th (Inniskilling) Dragoons. From this it was generally inferred that the sentences about to be passed would be severe.

Reading of Sentence.

Osman Bey Mortada read the following sentence immediately the Court assembled:—

In the name of his illustrious Highness the Khedive, Abbas Helmy II., the special court in its public sitting, held at the town of Chibin el Kom at the Moudirieh, on Wednesday, the 27th day of June, 1906, corresponding to the 5th day of Jamad Awal, 1324, at half past eight in the morning, under the presidency of H.E. Boutros Pacha Ghali, acting Minister of Justice, and in the presence of Mr. William Goodenough Hayter, acting Judicial Adviser, Mr. Bond, vice-president of the Native Court of Appeal, Colonel Ludlow, judge advocate to the Army of Occupation, and Ahmed Fathy Bey Zaghloul, president of the Cairo Native Tribunal, as members thereof, and Osman Mortada Bey as secretary, gives judgment as follows in the case of aggression committed by certain inhabitants of Denishwai in the Chibin el Kom Markez of the Moudirieh of Menoufieh, on the 13th day of June 1906, at that village against five officers of the Army of Occupation, which aggression caused the death of one officer, the arm of another to be broken, and the rest to be injured, after hearing the speech of the counsel for the prosecution, the evidence of the witnesses, the statements of the accused and the speeches of the counsel for the defence, after examining the official papers concerning the case, and after thoroughly considering it:—

AS a detachment of the Army of Occupation left the city of Cairo on Monday, the 11th day of June, 1906, marching down to Alexandria and after two days arrived at a place near Kamsheesh, of Tala Markaz, Menoufieh, on the morning of Wednesday the 13th of the same month,

AS Major Pine-Coffin, officer in command of this detachment, desired to go pigeon shooting at Denishwai village, Chibin el Kom Markaz, having done so for the two previous years. He went there accompanied by four other officers, Captain Bull, Lieutenant Smithwick and Dr. Bostock. They arrived there at 2 p.m. on that day in two carriages, two officers being in each, while the fifth was on horseback. They were all in military uniform and bearing badges of their regiments. They were accompanied by an onbashi of the Egyptian police, and by Abd el Aal Sukkar, guide.

AS they found on their arrival five or six of the inhabitants of that village, as if they were waiting for them, they sent the onbashi to inform the omdeh of their arrival so that he might come with ghaffirs to meet them, as was customary. The interpreter began to converse with those who were waiting and after a short while told the officers that they might shoot pigeons if they were at a distance from the village.

AS they accordingly separated, going in two parties, the commanding officer, Major Pine-Coffin, Captain Bull, and Lieut. Smithwick to the North, at a distance of 500 metres from the houses of the village and a distance of 70 metres from each other, and Lieut. Porter and Dr. Bostock to the South where they took up their positions, at a distance of 100 metres from the threshing floor,

AS Lieut. Porter began shooting and fired about 9 shots at flying pigeons, one after the other, when a fire broke out in the threshing-floor of Mohamed Abd el Nebi Moazzin which was extinguished in five minutes. But the owner of the threshing floor approached Lieut. Porter and seized his gun, when about 30 persons, some of whom took hold of the gun at the same time, and the others surrounded the officer and followed him. They pulled the gun from him, after which the gun exploded, two shots going off, and the wife of Mohamed Abd el Nebi Moazzin, Amir Ads, sheikh el ghaffir, Ali Dabshah, and Mohamed Daoud received the charge from the gun,

AS while this was taking place on the south side, on the north side it occurred that Captain Bull was aiming at a flying pigeon and one of those who had met them took hold of the butt of the gun, and prevented him from shooting. Major Pine Coffin observed this and came to see what was the matter. At the same time he saw the smoke of the fire in the threshing-floor of Mohamed Abd el Nebi Moazzin and that the man who was holding the gun pointed to the same and about nine persons came towards them with the guide behind them shouting in English "The natives surrounded the officers on the south side."

AS Major Pine-Coffin went, accompanied by his two comrades, towards the other officers, he saw that the crowd around them increased and Lieut. Porter was unwilling to surrender his weapon and he saw evil intentions in the faces of the crowd. He wished to go back to the carriages and began to take the cartridges from his gun, which he gave to a native. He also gave his watch to that man and ordered his comrades to give up their guns. He went to the mob and arrested Lieut. Porter, assisted by another officer, as a criminal, and all turned to go to where they had left their carriages and horse.

AS the crowd, increased in numbers and in evil intentions, followed them with sticks, bricks, and dry mud. Major Pine-Coffin was felled by a blow on the head. He got up but was felled by another blow and the crowd continued their attack until they reached the carriages. And as Major Pine-Coffin saw that they continued to attack, he told Capt. Bull and Capt. Bostock to go to the camp for help. And although Captain Bull had received a severe blow on the head, he obeyed the order, he ran on and looked back at no one. The heat was intense and Capt. Bull fell on the way, unconscious. He received a sunstroke and was removed to the camp, where he died at seven o'clock on the evening of the same day. Dr. Bostock arrived at the camp after receiving several blows which required several days' medical treatment,

AS the crowd prevented the Major and his two comrades from getting into the carriages, pulled them about and beat them, throwing bricks and dry mud at them, dragged them to the spot where was the wounded woman and made them sit down, while some made signs of cutting their throats to make them understand they meant to kill them as they had killed the woman, who was not killed. They dragged them to the scene of the fire, beating them with sticks, stones, and bricks and kicking them while they were lying on the ground, and placed tibn round them. The officers thought they were going to burn them and Major Pine-Coffin fell senseless a third time from the blows. Afterwards they took them to a place under a tree and the ghaffirs began to arrive. The mob then withdrew and an officer of the police from an outpost near the scene of the incident, who had been called by telephone, arrived and the officers were taken back to the camp,

AS Major Pine-Coffin's left arm was broken by a blow from a naboot and Lieut. Smithwick's nose was broken by a stone and the officers received several injuries on different parts of their bodies, as shown by the medical reports.

AS the first medical report of the examination of Capt. Bull before his death confirmed afterwards that death was due to concussion of the brain caused by the blows which he received on the head and by sunstroke. The examination which the doctor of the Court made confirmed that the blow had caused the concussion of the brain and that though it was not sufficient in itself to cause death it weakened him and made him to be quickly affected by sunstroke, so rendering death likely,

AS the crowd robbed the officers of such things as watches, key chain, whistle, etc., as they also did their weapons,

AS the officials discovered some of the guns in some of the houses of the people and also some of the stolen goods,

AS the act of beating was with the intention to kill and on the vital parts of the body which caused the death of one of the injured, the incident is considered as murder preceded, accompanied, or followed by the crime of robbery by force. The punishment for such a crime can be taken from the Egyptian Code,

AS this crime was committed against officers who surrendered their arms and were defenceless and were unable to escape. They showed no enmity and did not provoke the aggressors by words or signs and cause them to act as they had done,

AS this crime was intentional and previously arranged as is evident from the fire and the sudden increase of the mob against the officer on the South side and those who seized Capt. Bull and pointed to the smoke. They were merciless to a blameless officer. People were present among the crowd who were strong enough to prevent the murder, but these were more severe and more merciless than the others,

AS what makes the crime worse is that it was committed against men who had been service and could have shot the aggressors as they did the pigeons, but they had peaceful intentions. They surrendered their weapons, making them defenceless,

AS the Court had spent three days in hearing the evidence of the witness, the speeches of counsel for the prosecution and the defence, they verified that the following were the criminals:—

Hassan Ali Mahfouz, Youssef Hussein Salem, Said Issa Salim, Mohamed Darweesh Zohran, Mohamed Abdel Nebi Moazzin, Ahmed Abdel Aal Mahfouz, Ahmed Mohamed Assisi, Mohamed Ali Abou Sanak, Abdul el Bakli, Ali Ali Shaalan, Mohamed Mustafa Mahfouz, Raslan Said Salem, Asawid Hamid Mahfouz Hassan Ismail Assisi, Mohamed el Ghurbasi Said Ali, Said el Orfi, Azab Omar Mahfouz, Said Suleiman Kheirulla, Abdel Ali Hassan Shahin, and Mohamed Ahmed Assisi.

AS these accused by acting in such a manner had no call for mercy,

AS the leaders of this outrage are the first four persons named, by exciting the natives, the first of which awaited the officers, in accordance with Articles 4, 5, and 6 of the Khedivial Decree dated the 25th day of February 1895, the Court gave sentence in the presence of the prisoners, a sentence to which there could be no appeal.

First, Hassan Ali Mahfouz, Youssef Hussein Salem, Said Issa Salem, and Mohamed Darweesh Zohran to death by hanging at Denishwai village.

Second, Mohamed Abdel Nebi Moazzin and Ahmed Abdel Aal Mahfouz to penal servitude for life.

Third, Ahmed Mohamed Assissi to penal servitude with hard labour for fifteen years.

Fourth, Mohamed Ali Abou Sanak, Bakli, Ali Shaalan, Mohamed Mustafa Mahfouz, Raslan Said Ali, and Asawi Mohamed Mahfouz to seven years' imprisonment with hard labour.

Fifth, Hassan Ismail Assissi, Ibrahim Hassan Assissi, and Mohamed el Ghurbasi Said Ali to one year's imprisonment with hard labour and to receive fifty lashes at Denishwai.

Sixth, Said El Afi, Azab Omar Mahfouz, Said Suleiman Kheirulla, Abd el Ali Hassan Ibrahim, and Mohamed Ahmed Assissi to receive fifty lashes at Denishwai.

Seventh, the rest of the accused to be acquitted instantly.

The Moudir of Menoufieh is to enforce these sentences.

The sentences were received by the prisoners without a word being uttered by any of them and perfect order was maintained throughout the proceedings.

The members of the special tribunal left for Cairo this morning. Mr. Moberly has gone to Denishwai to make arrangements for the execution of the four prisoners sentenced to death and the flogging of the others. Mr. Machell will attend the execution.

The prisoners will be escorted to Denishwai by the troops now at Chibin el Kom and extra forces of Egyptian police and ghaffirs have been sent by special trains from Cairo and Alexandria.

Now that the trial has come to an end I should like to mention the excellent working of the local telegraph staff, under the charge of M. Khouri, divisional inspector. The service has been first-rate and all the staff most obliging. Said Eff Zaki, chef du bureau, Abd el Aziz Eff. Lutfi, Soliman Eff. Mourcy, and Mohamed Eff. Arabi have put the Press representatives under a great obligation.

PROPOSED NEW TURKISH LOAN.

The Constantinople correspondent of the "Frankfurter Zeitung" states that the Ottoman Bank proposes to issue at the beginning of July, a portion of the Turkish loan of £2,500,000, which is based upon the surplus of the Public Debt Commission, the option for which the bank exercised on 28th April. It is intended to issue 75,000 £20 obligations, while the remaining 50,000 bonds will be placed in the statutory Government reserve at the Ottoman Bank. After the transaction has been carried through the Porte is still to receive a remaining sum of £50,000. The remaining sum relates to the unification loan which was taken over by a syndicate composed of the Ottoman Bank, the Comptoir National d'Escompte and the Rouvier Bank, and which had already made an advance of £1,100,000 to the Porte.

MILITARY WEDDING.

On Monday a pretty wedding took place in the Garrison Chapel, Kasr el Nil, the bride being Miss Alice Bartholomew, daughter of S.S. Major Bartholomew, A.S.C., and the bridegroom, S. Sgt. F.C. Cross, R.A.M.C. The bride was given away by her father. The Rev. Hardy officiated at the ceremony, the fine band of the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers being in attendance. After the service the band played a Wedding March, and the happy couple left the church amidst showers of confetti and rice. At the exit an arch was formed by all the military present who wore swords, the effect being very picturesque. A crowd gathered outside the chapel, and Mr. and Mrs. Cross had to run the gauntlet again, through showers of rice and confetti. Eventually, reaching their carriage, they drove to the British Head Quarters, where a reception was held. The verandahs of the building were effectively decorated with palms, etc., and the interior was also artistically arranged for the auspicious occasion. The guests numbered quite a hundred, among those present being Lt. Col. Douglas Hunter, Major Mylrae, Capt. Duffus, Capt. Mackenzie, Mr. Barratt, etc. The wedding presents were both numerous and handsome, and were greatly admired by all. The happy couple afterwards left for Alexandria, amidst the vociferous cheering of those present.

NO INTERFERENCE.

HOME GOVERNMENT AND DENISHWAI.

TRUSTING THE "MAN ON THE SPOT."

(Gazette's Special Service).

LONDON, Thursday, June 28.

The Denishwai outrage was again the subject of a question in the House of Commons last night, when Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, replying to Mr. Dillon, Member for East Mayo, declined to interfere with the execution of the sentences, and said that he was sure he could trust to the expression of humanity of the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs and to those on whose opinion he would rely.

Sir Edward Grey was questioned in the House of Commons last Thursday for the second time with reference to the attack on British officers at Denishwai.

Mr. Dillon asked if the Secretary for Foreign Affairs was in a position to give any further information on the subject, whether the officers were in uniform, or in the execution of any military duty when the affray took place, and whether he could give the text of that portion of the Khedivial decree under which the accused were to be sent for trial before the special tribunal.

Sir E. Grey.—The officers were in uniform when the affray took place. The text of the sixth article of the Khedivial decree (translated from the French) is as follows:—

"All crimes and misdemeanours committed by natives against soldiers or officers of the British Army shall continue, in principle, to be tried by the native tribunals. They shall only be dealt with by the special tribunal in special cases, when the Agent and Consul of Great Britain shall, at the request of the general commanding the Army of Occupation, and in agreement with him, so demand of the Minister for Foreign Affairs."

Article 4 of the decree gives the accused the right to have an advocate.

THE SUCRERIES

DETAILS OF NEW ARRANGEMENT

Full details are now to hand, the Paris correspondent of the "Financial News" states, with regard to the arrangement arrived at between the creditors of the unfortunate Egyptian Sugar Refineries Company and the Official Receiver at Cairo at the beginning of the month. It has been proposed to reduce the nominal value of the shares from 100f. to 30f., which latter amount is said to represent, more or less, the actual value of the security. Further, the Daira Sugar Corporation—the principal creditor—has consented to claim only half of its unsecured debt, besides making other concessions in connection with the instalments which are due to the corporation. In this way, as well as by the sale to the Egyptian State of the railway line formerly belonging to the Sugar Refinery, an annual economy of about L.E. 40,000 will be effected. As to the holders of bills, those who voluntarily renounce 25 per cent. of their claims will have a preference over the old shareholders, although ranking on the same level with the original creditors. The latter will receive mortgage bonds instead of immediate settlement. This arrangement was unanimously agreed upon at the creditors' meeting, before it was sanctioned by the Commercial Tribunal of Cairo. At the meeting, 22,783 creditors, with aggregate claims of L.E. 1,498,147, were represented. The all-important question which now arises is whether it will be possible to continue the Egyptian Sugar factories and to place them on a paying basis. As has already been pointed out, besides those directly interested in the question, the Egyptian Government, above all, pays the utmost attention to the development of the sugar industry in the country. So far, the experts appointed by the courts have not been able, after an inquiry which lasted over two months, to give a definite answer to the question. What they suggest is that a trial should be made with two sugar factories, in order to see whether, with a judicious and economic management, a satisfactory result can be obtained.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

It will not be very long (remarks the "Daily News") before we see the Earl and Countess of Cromer in London, for they have just started from Cairo for England. The able eulogy by Sir Auckland Colvin has placed in a permanent literary form the remarkable services of Lord Cromer in the renascence of Egypt. No Englishman has served the Empire with greater ability and with less obtrusiveness than Lord Cromer. Probably no man of his eminence is less familiar to the British public through portraiture and anecdote than he.

It is stated that Lord and Lady Cromer will only make a short stay in London, and will pass most of their holiday at Strathmore Lodge, in Caithness, which is held on lease by Mr. Thomas Baring.

The Duke of Westminster has made arrangements to visit South Africa in his steam yacht Grianaig, which is now fitting out for the cruise with all haste at Southampton. He will join the yacht at Naples at the beginning of next month, and proceed, by way of the Suez Canal, to Durban.

The "London Gazette" announces that on the occasion of the opening by the King of the sanatorium at Midhurst His Majesty has promoted Sir Ernest Cassel to be Knight Grand Cross of the Royal Victorian Order. It may be recalled that Sir Ernest Cassel some time ago gave £200,000 anonymously for charitable purposes, which the King applied to the provision of sanatoria for tuberculous patients.

Sir William Preece is now rapidly recovering from his illness. He is in North Wales.

A marriage has been arranged between Major Charles J. L. Davidson, D.S.O., Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers, eldest son of the late James Brabner Davidson, of Eglinton, County Derry, Ireland, and Mary Nathalie, only daughter of Colonel A. B. Cumberlege, of Kingsfield, Southwick, Sussex, late Indian Staff Corps, and late Commissioner of the Chattisgarh Division, Central Provinces, India.

Captain Stanley Flower, director of the Ghizeh Zoological Gardens, and Mrs. Flower are staying at the Beau Rivage Hotel, Ramleh.

EASTERN SHIPPING RATE WAR.

The "Weser Zeitung" (Berlin) states that the negotiations between the Hansa Line and the P. and O. Steam Navigation Company in regard to the reduced rates offered by the latter between Hamburg and India have again fallen through, and the rate war therefore continues.

NILE VALLEY'S NEW START.

Mr. R. J. Price, M.P., who presided at the meeting of the Nile Valley (New) Company last week, said that the company had passed through its reconstruction in a most satisfactory manner, the existing shareholders having taken the whole of the capital with the exception of the 5,000 shares which were taken by outsiders. The board were holding a thousand shares in reserve for the benefit of any shareholders who, owing to absence, might have been unable to apply. He did not think that a more successful reconstruction had ever been carried through. He had said that the company would have a working capital of £30,000, but the board had been able to improve on that, and the amount was £35,600. That was a very satisfactory position, and the desire of the board was to use the money so that it would give them the greatest credit and the shareholders the greatest benefit. It had been decided to suspend crushing operations until more suitable motive power was obtained, and in the meanwhile development work would be carried on actively. When better motive power was obtained the company would be able to crush regularly with, he hoped, good results, and he trusted they would come across rich patches such as had previously characterised their formation. In reply to questions the Chairman further stated that the battery was capable of crushing only one thousand tons per month, but ten stamps could be added to it. The cost of the machinery for the new motive power would not exceed a thousand pounds.

NOTES ET CRITIQUES

Le Caire, Mercredi 27 Juin 1906.

A Londres, le Consolidé anglais a encore perdu hier 1/4 de livre à 87 7/8. L'Unifiée est restée invariée à 104 3/4, de même que la National Bank à 25 5/8, l'Agricole à 9 5/8, la Daira à 17 1/8 et la Delta Light à 12.

A Paris, l'action Crédit Foncier Egyptien a clôturé en baisse de 2 francs à 769. La Banque d'Athènes est demeurée inchangée à 154.

* * *

Ici, notre marché a présenté plus ou moins, aujourd'hui, les mêmes caractéristiques qu'hier: séance calme, avec affaires restreintes et tendance générale indécise.

La National Bank et l'Agricole, délaissées, ont clôturé à leurs cours précédents. Rien de particulier à relever sur les autres valeurs du compartiment, à ceci près que la Banque d'Abyssinie a été offerte à 5 3/4.

Le Crédit Foncier a rétrogradé à 767, la Daira à 17 1/16 et la Béhéra à 36. La part de fondateur Wardan Estate a perdu 1/4 à 7.

L'action Immobilière s'est maintenue à 365-366; la part de fondateur a gagné 6 francs à 576. L'action Agricole du Nil a avancé à 262. L'Improvements Corporation a réactionné à 4 11/16. L'Union Foncière est revenue à 6 3/16.

L'action Entreprises Immobilières et Travaux a été traitée à 4 1/16; la part de fondateur a progressé à 71.

L'action Land Allotment a fléchi à 3 1/8-3/16; la part de fondateur est restée à 110.

Les actions privilégiées Tramways d'Alexandrie ont haussé de 4 francs à 192, et les dividendes de 2 francs à 357.

Dans le groupe des Hôtels, les Nungovich se sont raffermis à 15 7/16-1/2 l'action ancienne. Les Baehler ont mollit à 5 5/8. Les National ont encore gagné 1/16 à 3 3/8-7/16. L'Anglo-American Nile a perdu 1/16 à 5 1/16.

Parmi les petites valeurs, les Delta Land ont faibli à 3 11/16-3/4 et les Glymenopoulo à 1 1/2-9/16, malgré leur fusion avec la Building Lands Co., qui a été votée hier; elle devra être confirmée dans quinze jours par une autre assemblée extraordinaire. la part de fondateur Estates a reculé de 1/8 à 10 1/16. Les New Egyptian ont clôturé à 29 sh. 3 et les Egyptian Constructions à 1 1/16-1/8. Les Khedivial Mail ont fait 32 shellings.

Les Automobiles, qui ont remplacé aujourd'hui les Omnibus du Caire sur la cote par suite de la fusion des deux Société, ont été négociées à 4 1/4 et la part de fondateur à L.E. 10.

* * *

On sait que la Société anonyme du Béhéra a vendu à un groupe financier d'Alexandrie le "tefliche" de Sidi Salem, d'une superficie de 14.000 feddans, dans la province de Gharbieh.

Or, on rapporte que les acheteurs ont formé à Londres, pour exploiter ce domaine, une Société anonyme dont l'émission aura probablement lieu au mois d'Octobre prochain.

* * *

L'assemblée ordinaire de l'Egyptian Hotels Co. s'est tenue hier à Londres.

Il ressort des comptes de l'exercice clôturé le 30 Avril dernier que le bénéfice net s'est élevé à £27,093, après paiement de £5.889 pour amortissement d'obligations.

L'assemblée a approuvé la distribution d'un dividende de 17 1/2, soit 3 sh. 6, sur les actions ordinaires, payable à partir du 2 Juillet prochain. Une somme de £1,413 a été reportée à nouveau.

Le rapport du conseil d'administration dit qu'en Mars 1905, celui-ci avait passé avec M. Charles Baehler un contrat donnant à ce dernier une option pour acheter la balance du surplus des terrains de la Société à Ghezireh pour la somme de £100,000. Or, M. Baehler abandonna volontairement cette option et vendit les terrains au profit de la Compagnie pour la somme de £220,000.

La Société a déjà reçu £100,000 en acomptes, moins une commission de £5,000. Le restant soit £120,000, est payable dans dix ans, sans intérêt. Les administrateurs ont tout lieu de croire que ce solde sera payé à la Compagnie longtemps avant l'expiration du délai stipulé.

Nous détachons d'une lettre de Paris, en date du 21 Juin, les lignes suivantes:

"Les fonds russes, qui sont la partie noire et menaçante de la cote, continuent à fléchir. Les raisons de cette dépression ne sont que trop précises: la crise antérieure s'aggrave sans autre issue possible qu'un coup d'Etat entre le gouvernement impérial et la Douma. D'autre part, les grèves ont recommencé en même temps que les insurrections partielles. Il n'en faut pas tant pour déterminer de grosses réalisations de portefeuille, des ventes à découvert ont eu lieu, plus suivies et plus fortes. Tous les emprunts russes offrent des moins values considérables. Le Rente nouveau lui-même, bien que vigoureusement défendu, est tombé, cette semaine, de 91.15 à 89.50."

* * *

Les recettes des Tramways d'Alexandrie, pour la semaine finissant le 23 Juin courant se sont élevées à L.E. 1,661, contre 1.435 en 1905, soit en augmentation de L.E. 226.

Depuis le 1er Janvier 1906, les recettes sont montées à L.E. 34,962, contre 29.106 en 1905, en plus value de L.E. 5,856.

THE COTTON MARKET.

KEARSLEY AND CUNNINGHAM'S WEEKLY REPORT

Liverpool, June 21.

The market for Egyptian cotton has quite a holiday appearance, the amount of actual business being very small. Quotations remain without change.

In futures there has been a moderate business, and the following are the quotations:—

June	10.8d	Sept.	9.39	Dec.	8.34
July	9.59	Oct.	9.21	Jan.	8.24
Aug.	9.51	Nov.	8.45

American Futures. The market this week has been extremely dull and inanimate, and although prices have experienced various fluctuations, to-day's values are practically unchanged from those of last Thursday. The only feature has been the heavy liquidation of the July position, both here and in New York. This seems now pretty well finished, and we should not be surprised to see renewed firmness in the near positions, as the statistical position is becoming increasingly strong. Crop accounts are somewhat variable, but the general impression is that it is doing well.

The latest values are, delivery:—

June	5.82d	Sept./Oct.	5.63
June/July	5.80	Oct./Nov.	5.58
July/Aug.	5.78	Nov./Dec.	5.57
Aug/Sept.	5.71	Dec./Jan.	5.57

S. WALES VISITED BY EARTHQUAKE.

SERIOUS DAMAGE DONE.

MINERS ENTOMBED IN COLLIERY.

LONDON, June 27.

A severe earthquake shock has taken place in South Wales. In Swansea, Cardiff, Newport, and neighbouring villages, houses rocked, and the inhabitants were seized with panic. Chimney-stacks fell in all directions. Many people have been injured. Serious damage has been done to property.

Six miners have been entombed in a colliery, probably as a result of the earthquake, and all hope of rescuing them has been abandoned. The Rhondda Valley colliers came to the surface in consternation, thinking the shock had been caused by an explosion in a neighbouring mine. (Reuter)

EDUCATION BILL.

"A HOPELESS JUMBLE."

LONDON, June 27.

The minority in yesterday evening's division included 70 Nationalists, 27 Liberals, and 19 Labourites.

The Liberals consider the passage of the Bill now assured. The Conservative organs urge the Government to abandon the measure, which they consider to have become a hopeless jumble. (Reuter)

LONDON, June 26.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.—Sir E. Grey, in reply to questions suggesting the countermanding of the visit of the British Fleet to Kronstadt, said that the Fleet would visit Swedish, German, and four Russian ports during July and August, and he thought it quite out of the question that the visit, which was arranged some time ago, should be regarded as influencing the internal affairs of Russia. MONEY AND SHARE MARKET

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

London, June 22.

The Money Market.

Mr. Asquith has again shown that the question of our Gold Reserve is still engaging his attention. At a banquet in the Mansion House the other evening, he suggested as a possible step towards assisting the Government in forming a judgment on the matter, that the Banks might publish their returns at shorter intervals. No doubt such action might do much towards assisting in the solution of the problem, but of more importance towards that desideratum would be some plan by which returns could be obtained from the great majority of Banks and bankers, who at present do not issue any statement, even once a month.

The Bank rate was yesterday reduced to 3½%, but up to the last minute the possibility of such reduction was anything but certain, and although the optimistic forecast in this column of last week has thus been vindicated, the fall has come sooner than expected, and it may be that the Bank authorities have been a little premature. It is true that the open market rate was considerably below the official figure, which now can be easily made effective, but the New York Exchange has had a sharp drop, and the Paris rate is showing weakness, the former standing dangerously near the gold-drawing point. Perhaps it would have been as well if the Bank directors had delayed the "drop" until the turn of the month, for it would be regrettable if we had a repetition of the unfortunate experience of two months back, when the Bank rate was lowered only to be raised again after the lapse of a fortnight.

Credits certainly seem to be ample and cheap for the moment. Call money has been going at any price for several days, and to-day fetches only 2%, and weekly loans can be had for 2½%.

The discount rate, which had receded to 3½% before the fall in the Bank rate, now stands at 3½ to 3 15/16%, and this is probably the bottom of it for about a week to come, and without a great amount of business doing. As the end of the month is approaching borrowers will probably be forced to have recourse to the Bank of England next week, for the market's balances at that institution are in none too healthy a condition.

The Stock Markets.

A few months ago, when the Tsar granted a Constitution to the people of Russia, it was fondly hoped that brighter days were in store for that country. Certainly, a period of comparative quiet followed, and this strengthened the feeling of optimism. It was, however, but a lull in the storm, which has now broken out again with increasing violence. The massacres and bloodshed which horrified the whole civilised world last year are being repeated, and the outlook is dark in the extreme.

That the situation is regarded with great gravity in Russia is to be gathered from the telegram sent by five prominent members of the Duma to a distinguished London journalist, Mr. Lucien Wolf. In this message they point out that the massacre at Bielostok was clearly "the beginning of an organised massacre similar to the bloody October days."

Consequently the financial condition of Russia has been seriously affected by the recent alarming events. It is said that already the Tsar is in need of more money, and although the statement that a loan was being negotiated with a commercial syndicate here has been officially denied, it is expected that the Government will, in the near future, be compelled to ask for further funds. Whether they will be successful in getting these is another matter. It was understood, when the last loan was granted by the Continental bankers, that there was to be no campaign against the Duma, and it is not to be supposed that these shrewd financiers will view the deliberate breach of the understanding that has taken place without a serious protest—a protest which will probably make itself felt when Russia comes cap in hand, asking for more assistance.

The "National Zeitung" aptly expresses the general feeling when it says that "Europe will make the Russian Court, the Government, and the bureaucracy, rather than the Duma, responsible if the first step towards a constitutional régime should result in failure."

As is well-known, both Germany and France have huge sums at stake in Russia, and the events of the past few days have caused something like a panic in the Russian groups on the bourses in Berlin and Paris. Large quantities of the bonds have been offered, and quotations have fallen to a lower point than has previously been touched by these stocks.

The depreciations were, it is true, to some extent the result of speculative operations in connection with the settlement in the new loan, but the main cause was the extreme nervousness regarding the situation in Russia.

At the beginning of the week the stock markets here were an accurate reflection of the feeling on the Continent, and depression was general. The fine weather and the attractions of Ascot have combined to keep many members away from the "House," and although the nervousness with regard to Russian affairs is not now so pronounced, there is still no life in the markets, which are idle. Even the reduction of the Bank rate to 3½% has failed to impart any activity.

Consols.

The improved monetary conditions have kept the gilt-edged market firm since our last, though the dullness prevalent in other sections has made itself felt here also. To day there has been a relapse, and the closing prices to-night for Consols are no better than 88⅝ for cash and 88 7/16 for the July account.

Foreign Bonds.

As mentioned above, Russian securities have been weaker this account than ever before in their history, the Fours declining to 78¼, or ¼ lower than during the dark days of late December, and 8 points below the quotation at the beginning of April. It is almost inconceivable that nine months ago these bonds were as high as 95. The Rentes relapsed on the St. Petersburg Bourse to 72, a lower figure than was touched during the war. The closing prices here for the Fours and the new loan are 78⅛ and 2½ discount respectively. Japanese stocks have been supported, and the 4½ per cents. have advanced ¼ to 97½.

Home Rails.

Although there has been little business done in this section the tone has been more cheerful than for some time past, and for once a satisfactory batch of traffics has had a good effect. On the publication of the returns several of the lines recorded increases, South Londons and Brighton Prefs. being a full point up. This improvement has been maintained, and there are hopes that this may be the commencement of the long-looked for revival in home railway stocks. It is a most remarkable fact that they have been neglected so long, in view of the splendid returns, and the even better prospects for the future.

Americans.

This market has been moderately active throughout the week, thanks to good support from New York and the Continent. Baltimore and Ohio have again been the feature, the shares having put on an additional four points. The present popularity of these shares is due to the increased dividend, supplemented by earnings on the common stock at a rate exceeding 13%. Southern Pacifics have been bought, the market closely following the lead given to these shares by Wall Street, and the price rising three points. Several of the other stocks are a point up.

Egyptians.

There is very little to say regarding the Egyptian market. Prices have firmed up in most cases, without any business taking place. National Bank of Egypt are closing at 25⅝ ⅜, and Agricultural Banks are distinctly better at/9¾. Daira Sanieh Ordinary have been dealt in on the basis of 17⅛ ¼, and the Deferred are round about 100. Daira Sugar are still a very good market at 4⅞ 5 ⅛ ex dividend. Delta Land and Investment have gradually risen from 3⅜ to 4 buyers, without any shares changing hands, there appearing to be no sellers on this side. Delta Preference are nominally 11⅛-12, but there is nothing doing in these at present. New Egyptian have been in good demand, and close rather buyers at 1⅛, with prospects of going better. Abyssinia Banks are still at ⅜ discount, and Union Foncière at 6¼ ½. Egyptian Estates keep steady at 1 1/16, and the Deferred are quoted 10¼. Land Banks at 8¼, Corporation of Western Egypt at 1/16 premium, and Trust and Investment at ⅛ premium are all unchanged. Bank of Roumania have risen to 11 to day on good buying.

Mining.

The Kaffir market is firm, though all the conditions are against any quantity of business being transacted. The lowering of the Bank rate appears to have been to a large extent discounted, but the easier money conditions may be expected to exercise a favourable influence on this, as on other sections, in the near future. Rand Mines are 1/32 higher on the week at 6 5/32, and Goldfields 1/32, down at 3 31/32, East Rands showing no change at 4⅜.

Egyptian mining shares are quiet and the changes insignificant. The public show no inclination as yet to support Um Rus, which are still below 1s. An extraordinary meeting of the company is to be held on the 26th inst. to confirm the resolution passed at the last meeting agreeing to the reconstruction. Egyptian Mines are unchanged at 3s., but Nile Valley are lower at 5s. 9d.

ARMY AND NAVY.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

London, June 19.

In at least one home command the order for the monthly issue of preserved meat has been suspended till further orders. In more than one case soldiers have refused to eat the tinned stuff.

It is rumoured that the results of the present manœuvres, when completed, may largely influence a further redistribution of our naval forces at home and abroad.

Captain H.J. Kinsman, Royal Dublin Fusiliers, who has been placed under orders to join the 1st Battalion at Alexandria, from the 2nd Battalion at Buttevant, originally entered the army as a private soldier, and after serving over six years in the ranks was given a commission in the Dublin Fusiliers in July, 1894, and he obtained his captaincy in five and a half years later. He was employed with the Bechuanaland division of the British South African Police, and with the South African Constabulary, he saw a good deal of service in the Boer War, in the course of which he was badly wounded in action at Pinaar's River, August, 1900. He shared in the operations conducted by General Plumer for the relief of Mafeking, and the operations in the Western Transvaal under General Baden-Powell, in the latter campaign in command of a troop of the South African Constabulary (mentioned in despatches, Queen's medal with four clasps, King's medal with two clasps).

GERMAN MISSION TO ABYSSINIA.

Count Gleichen, who was a member of Sir Rennell Rodd's mission to Abyssinia in 1897, will (the "Tribune" observes) be specially interested in the arrival at the Emperor's capital from Berlin of a small composite party, including an architect, a locksmith, a house-painter, and an agricultural teacher. The Count, whose experiences have since been published, declares that the building of a house at Addis Abeba is a work of eternity. A French merchant told him on one occasion that his hut had been under construction for the last eight months, and was not even then nearly finished. After the first week the men demanded their wages and went away for a month or so to spend them. There were one or two carpenters at the time in the Ethiopian capital who were worse than useless, but an architect is a luxury hitherto unheard of in the country of this otherwise progressive ruler. There is therefore a wide field for the energies of this latest commercial mission.

CLASS II.

Boat.	Start. H.M.S.	Finish. H.M.S.	Sailed by.
1 Masr	3.55.19	5.15.40	C. Rodocanachi
2 Calypso	3.57.25	5.16.20	O. Wagner
3 Iskandiriyia	4.00.14	5.19.35	H. Fender

The wind was fresh from the N.W. Yesterday was a record day for the number of boats racing in Class I, viz., eleven, and then not all of the boats of that class started.

Last week, by an oversight of the "official measurer," Delikanli was stated to have been disqualified on account of her spinnaker boom being longer than her bowsprit. But as this was previously included in her measurement she is not therefore disqualified, as she has carried that spinnaker during the whole of the season.

This race ends the last of this month's series and Minnie is the winner on points in Class I., and Masr in Class II.

Next week will be the first of a new handicap for the July series of races.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT.

The large hall in the Soldiers' Club, Cairo, was crowded with members on Monday evening last to witness the final tie in the team competition. The finalists were a team of the Lancashire Fusiliers captained by Pte. Dickenson, and one of the K. R. Rifles, by Lce. Corp. Robinson. As each regiment consider they have the champion player amongst the rank and file serving in Egypt, the Lancashire Regiment in Pte. Dickenson, and the Rifles in Lce. Corp. Robinson, an exciting match between the two was expected, but Pte. Dickenson, who won the toss, elected to play the weakest man of the K. R. R. team, which caused a murmur of disappointment amongst the large number of spectators when the name appeared on the board. Evidently Dickenson's tactics were to establish a strong lead for his side and thus encourage them to play a winning game. He, however, did not succeed, as was expected, being evidently excited and consequently did not play up to his form; he beat his opponent by 39 points.

In the second game, Lce. Corp. Robinson, who is a cool and attractive player, had no difficulty in defeating his opponent, Pte. Judd, by 85 points, thus giving his side a strong lead.

The third game was played by two Lewises, Lce Corp. Lewis being the widner of a well-contested game by 13 points.

In the last game Rifleman Greenaway had matters pretty well his own way, going right away from his opponent, Pte Belding (who was not in his usual form), and winning by 60 points.

The 1st prize (value £5.5) goes to Lce. Corp. Robinson's team, the 2nd prize (value £2.10) goes to Pte. Dickenson's team, and the special prize of a championship match one to Lce. Corp. Fergusson for his break of 32. Score:—
